

Errata

Fr Aleksandr Men', 'The 1960s Remembered', Religion, State & Society vol. 23, no. 2, 1995.

A number of errors occurred during the translating and editing of this article, and there were one or two in the original text.

page 127, section 1, line 6. The collection box was not 'on the altar'. The Russian original is 'v altare'; 'altar' means the sanctuary. It is also very unlikely that it was 'in' the sanctuary: it must have been 'beside' it.

page 144, section 2, line 4. The original text says that 'Khrushchev umer' in 1964; in fact he was deposed in that year and died only in 1971.

page 147, line 13 from the end. Fr Aleksandr studied on a correspondence course, not at evening classes, which were not available at that time.

page 154, section 4, line 7. Fr Aleksandr is mistaken when he recalls that he might have spoken to Nikolai 'na svad' be Gleba' in 1967: Fr Gleb was already married by then.
